

Superstore Sales Data Summary

This dataset contains sales records from a retail superstore, covering order transactions across multiple regions and product categories. It includes detailed information on:

- Order dates, customer demographics, and product details
- Sales, profit, quantity, and discounts per transaction
- Geographical distribution across four main regions: West, East, Central, and South
- Product categorization into Furniture, Office Supplies, and Technology

The dataset offers valuable insights into regional performance, category trends, and seasonal sales patterns, making it ideal for sales analysis and business intelligence reporting.